To the Voters:
Gentlemen:—Having been requested by members of both political parties to announce myself a candidate for the office of city clerk in the forthcoming municipal election, I hereby offer myself as a candidate for said office independent of party politics and entirely on my merits. Sunday Closing.

"In his instructions to the grand jury yesterday morning, Judge Mills called the attention of the grand jury to the Sunday closing, and reminded them that they were to regard violations of that law in the same light as violations of any other law. The grand jury can have no difficulty, in finding an abundance of evidence of the continual violation of this law, and if they do their duty, Las Vegas will be entitled to a place with Santa Fe, Roswell, Silver City and other towns of the territory in which the Sunday closing law is respected and enforced."—Las Vegas Optic.

One Strike Settled.

Settlement of the Northern Colorado coal strike means that an ample supply of fuel will be available for the industries and the towns and cities of the northern part of the state. It is even more important in that it foreshadows a return to peace elsewhere and justifies the hope that disturbed industrial conditions soon will be ended.

If the News understands the terms of the northern settlement correctly the proposed advance of price from $4.25 a ton to $5, or even to $4.75, for domestic coal is not justified by the increased cost of production. Possibly an advance of 25 cents a ton may be necessary. A supposed increase of, say, 10 per cent in the cost of production should not be figured on the retail price in Denver, but on the price which the producers obtain at mine mouth. There is no change in any of the expenses after the coal leaves the mine. Some definite information on this point is due to consumers—Denver News.

Rule for Breathing.

If one's health is impaired, or if he wants to preserve it and increase his power to resist disease, he must first of all, give attention to his breathing, says Success. Even food and drink are second in importance to this, for one can live for days without nutrition save the air breathed, but if deprived of that, even for a few minutes, life ceases. Here are some of the first rules for acquiring a correct method of breathing, as given by a specialist who has made an exhaustive study of the subject:

First—After retiring at night, release the body and mind from all tension, and take full regular inhalations through your nostrils; hold the breath about one second; take all the time you can to exhale it; keep this up until you are weary or fall asleep. Second—When you wake in the morning, repeat the exercises at least for five minutes; longer, if time permits. Third—During the day, take as many long respirations as possible, exercising care with the exhalations. While taking these exercises, one should bear in mind the thought that he is inhaling new life and power.

There was a Washington, D. C., merchant who instructed his clerk to prepare a window card announcing that 75 cent neckties would be sold for 50 cents. The youth intent on getting the price correct, inadvertently wrote, "50 cent neckties at 50 cents." At first the merchant was wroth at the young man's stupidity, but after selling several of the neckties to customers who seemed pleasantly impressed with the apparent honesty of the announcement, the merchant decided that the clerk had found a new advertising wrinkle of the kind that sells goods.—Retailer and Advertiser.

CHANGED HANDS.

The Grand Central Hotel in Future Will be Managed by Elza White.

The Grand Central Hotel, the leading hotel of the Southwest, changed hands yesterday, and Elza White assumed the management of the same. The hotel has been managed by Messrs. Stockard & Danenberg for four years and they have maintained a standard par excellence. This popular house is the delight of the commercial men and our numerous tourists. While it is regretted that Stockard & Danenberg are giving up the hotel, it could not fall into the hands of a better man than Elza White. Mr. White conducted the Shelby hotel here for two years and was in the hotel business at Midland, Texas, for six years. He is a thoroughly experienced man in the business and understands the art of pleasing his patrons. The high standard of the hotel will be maintained and it will be conducted on the same plan, both American and European. Mr. White will retain all of the present help which would be impossible to improve, and the general air of comfort and cheerfulness will be the same.

The transfer did not include the saloon, and Messrs. Stockard and Danenberg will continue to have charge of same, which is the finest saloon in New Mexico.

The RECORD wishes Landlord White the same success enjoyed by his predecessors.
